

Does your company stand out from the crowd?

Sometimes just doing a great job isn't enough.

Increase your profile with a private label power distribution product from Juice Goose

A Juice Goose customized power distribution product includes your logo and company contact information. You save the rack space dedicated to an ID panel and the cost of the panel. Plus, a professionally designed and reproduced image on a high quality power distribution product makes a great impression on your client - and maybe your client's clients.

THE PROCESS

Step #1 Select the Juice Goose JG Series model for your custom graphics.

Step #2 Provide Juice Goose with your preferred contact information and a digital image of your logo art (jpg, gif, png or tiff). Juice Goose will create a composite image of your artwork on a photo of the product for your review. If you have specified fonts or colors, please state those (colors in terms of Pantone or "PMS").

Step #3 With your approval of the digital composite and a purchase order Juice Goose will produce a physical, silk screened front panel prototype for your inspection and final approval before production is authorized. Simple, single color graphics without special effects may not require a prototype.

Step #4 Once the prototype is approved Juice Goose will include your custom product in their next monthly production order. Lead time for delivery is approximately sixty days.

THE PRODUCTS

Juice Goose has five JG Series products to choose from. The line up includes one model with rack lights, one standard with nine outlets, one with no switch and two with eleven outlets. All highly dependable models feature basic power protection and generous warranties.

THE PROGRAMS

Juice Goose has three program quantity levels from which to choose, designed to benefit different volumes of business.

Purchase requirements begin as low as twenty pieces. Fifty and one hundred piece options are also available with improved pricing and terms.

Larger orders may be shipped in multiple batches and would be invoiced only at the time of shipment by Juice Goose. Deliveries can be scheduled months in advance to help manage customers' inventory. We will actively work with private label accounts to help plan reorders and keep custom power products available as needed.
